McAllister's All-healing Ointment
T is generally conceded that this Medicine has effected more curesthan any seven remedies ever presented to the public. It has probably cured more cases of Piles, Rheumatism, wore Eyes, Burns, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Quincy, Sore Throat, &c., than all the popular medicines
in use; and I am positive in Liver Complaint, Scrofula, Asthma, Coughs, Consumptions, Spinal Diseases, Worms, Broken or Sore Breasts, Headache and the like, nothing can be found with physicians or druggists that is so good, and the cure so quick. In all complaints peculiar to females especially, its efficacy appears al most miraculeus.

THA, for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, and other affections of the Throat and Lungs.
THE COMPOUND BALSAM OF HOARHOUND is ried you away. Friend! have you no cause to be and Lungs.

THE COMPOUND BALSAM OF HOARHOUND is a tonic remedy, possessing anodyne properties without astringency. It produces a free and easy expectoration, etc. It has received the commendation of the medical faculty of Mobile, and several physicians of New Ortensens, who prescribe it in their practice—which is evidence enough of its value, without affixing letters of recommendation. It will be found safe in its operation, pleasant and agreeable in taste.

We have removed from ourselves all liability of empiricism, by submitting the mode of manufacturing this preparation to the confidential examination of the following physicians of Mobile, who have certified to its being a safe, pleasant, and efficacious remedy for domestic use, being innocent in its effects on the system of the most delicate infant, or aged invalid:

Drs. R. Lee Fearn, A. Lopez, J. H. Woedcock, F. A. Ross, N. Walkley, L. Chieusse, P. H. Lewis, J. B. Earle, C. A. Woodruff, A. B. C. Dossey, M. D., E. Gallard, M. D., Drs. Murphey and Connell, of Clair borne, Alabama.

IT It seems that the Forrest case has ended, not much to his credit. He might perhaps have done better, if the main points in law had not been, good evidence. His proof of his allegations failed sadly, and he has the satisfaction of being found guilty himself, and suffering the penalty of his signal failure. Those who have read the main points in the testimony will not be disappointed at the result.

The Theatre which was burned at Vicksburg, few days ago, is the third building of the kind which has burned on the same spot within the last five or six years. At the time of the last fire the ropes of nearly every church and engine bell were cut by the incendiaries, to prevent giving the alarm. The loss of the theatre and o the Martin House, which was burned a few days before, will be seriously felt by the citizens of Vicksburg.

The new sysiem of telegraphing fire alarms was tried in Boston a few days since. Ten out of the nineteen telegraph alarm bells belonging to the new fire system were successfully rung by electricity.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 17, 1852. The rumor that Huiseman has demanded hi passports is false. He will take very good care not to do that, and, in fact, avoid studiously any expression in his communications that would justify the President in dismissing him. Hulseman and Bodisco have been seen out for the first time to-day. During the presence of Kossuth and his suite, they were never seen in the streets. Bodisco has had the good sense not to commit his criticism on Mr. Webster to paper; but Hulseman, the Austrian Charge, has complained to the President that Mr. Webster has whipped him. The Intelligencer, the respectable monarchical organ here in Washingon, is silent on the subject. It never defends an American minister against a foreign power, but vice versa.

The scales begin to fall from the eyes of some of our friends here in Congress, now that the elections of Delegates in the Empire State show that Gov. Marcy, with the barnburner and a fraction of the Hunker vote combined, cannot carry the State of New York. And yet the barnburners were exceedingly shrewd, and Marcy acting throughout with great tact. In Marcy acting throughout with great tact. In all the districts where hunkers and barnburners were about equally balanced, they dispensed with pledges; while in all the districts where they imagined themselves strong, they boldly supported a free-soiler. The result is a division of the State into two hostile sets of delemanns and the state and senate departments.

WEEKLY COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 26 REMARKS .- The continued suspension of navigatio as caused a general stagnation in business. The markets throughout the week have, to a great extent, been levoid of interest, and there being only a limited coun ry and city demand, no change of importance in price as transpired. River navigation for the last week has been entirely aspended. The river opposite this city is blocked with ce twelve inches in thickness, and a large number of oot passengers, sleighs, wagons, &c , have crossed. The weather since our last ha : materially mederated nd there is now every indication of a general thaw and resumption of navigation. Until then it is unnecessary or us to present anything more in the way of a con nercial report than to quote the nominal rates of the rincipal staples and leading articles which usually at ract the at'ention of dealers.

In the Grocery market this week transactions have een entirely of a retail character, with but little variaion in prices. The Provision market remains firm and nchanged. But little has been done in the Tobacco market during the last week. The suspension of navi gation and the recent extreme cold weather has checked eccipts; consequently the sales this week have been BRILLIANT Teeth and Sweet Brenth. There can be not the slightest doubt but that many diseases arise from negict of the teeth. Pure air is as accessary to he alth as lood is to lite; but those having dire ty teeth and spongy gums are constantly it hating an impure atmosphere, and hence many diseases arise which put has are never attributed to the right cause. JULES HAUEL'S PURIFIED CHARCOAL TOOTHE-RATE is decidedly the best remedy yet discovered for diseased teeth and gums, as it neutralizes the disagreeable odor arising from arious teeth, and renders the gums firm and healthy. All dentists agree that charcoan is an excellent dentr.fice; but many persons have been fearful of using it on account of the hard and gritty substances which are generally mixed with it, and which are calculated to injure the enamel of the teeth.

Jules Hauel's Purified Charcoal Tooth Paste is entirely free from this objection, as the coal from which it is prepared is formed from poplar wood burnt expressly for the purpose in an iron cylinder. The other ingredients are only such as are necessary to prepare the charcoal in this form, and in themselves are entirely innocuous. The Purified Charcoal Tooth Paste will impart the most beautiful and brilliant whiteness to the teeth, keep the gums healthy, and make the breath nurs and sweet the gums and make the breath nurs and sweet the gums and make the breath nurs and sweet.

JOHN A. McLAUGHLIN.

A few days ago, there arrived in Bosmatrimony. As soon as they were fairly domiciled, the would-be-bridegroom who was a rough but apparantly honest specimen of the country Yankee-sent for the proprietor of the hotel, who quickly answered his summons.

corner of the parlor, "this is my young ming a screen for the rider's defence, we woman. Naow we've cum all the way are reminded of that memorable morning from Rhode Island, and want to get in the life of the great German Baron, spliced. Send for a minister, will yer— when his horse, cut in two, just behind want it done up, right straight off."

The landlord smiled and went out, and half an hour afterward a licensed minister made his appearance, and the obliging were called in to witness the "sceno."

"Naow, Mr. Stiggins," said the Yankee, "deu it up brown, and yer money's redy," and forthwith the reverend gentleman commenced by directing the parties to join hands. The Yankee stood up to his blushing lady-love, like a sick kitten hugging a hot brick, seized her by the hand, and was as much pleased as a raccoon might be supposed to be with two tails.

"You promise, Mr.—," said the parson, to take this woman." "Yaas," said the Yankee at once.

"To be your lawful wedded wife." "Yaas-yaas."

"That you will love and honor her in all things?" "Yaas."

"That you will cling to her, and her only as long as you live."

"Yaas-yaas, indeed--nothin' else! continued the Yankee, in the most delighted and earnest manner; but here the reverend clergyman halted, much to the surprise of all present, and more especially to the annoyance and discumfiture of the intended bridegroom.

"Yaas-yaas, I said," added the Yan-

"One moment, my friend," responded the minister, slowly, for it occurred to him that the law of Massachusetts does not admit of this performance without the observance of publishment, etc., for a certain length of time."

"Wat'en thunder's the matter, mister. Doan't stop-put 'er thru. Nothin's split, eh? Ain't sick, mister, be yer?"

"Just at this moment, my friend, I have thought that you can't be married in Massachusetts-" "Can't?--wot'n nature's the reason? I like her she likes me-wot's t'hender?" "You havn't been published, sir, I

"Hain't agoin' to be nuther, nuther! at's wat we cum 'ere for; on the sly; go on, go on old feller." "I really, sir," said the parson.

"Railly! wal, go ahead! Tain't fair, you see, 'taint, I swaow; you've married me, and ain't teched her. Go on-doan't stop here, 'at ain't jest the thing, naow by grashus 'tain't!"

"I will consult-" "No you wun't -- no you don't -- consult nothin' ner nobody, till this ere business is concluded, noaw mind, I tell ve!" said Jonathan resolutely, and in an instant he had turned the key in the lock amid the tittering of the witnesses, who were nearly choked with merriment. "Naow, mister, as we ware" -- continued the Yankee, seizing his trembling intended by the hand again-"go on, right straight from ware you left off; you can't cum nun o' this half-way business with this child; so put 'er thru, and no dodging

"You promise, madam, to take this man to be your lawful husband?"

"Yaas," said the Yankee, as the lady

"That you will love, honor, and obey." "Them's um!" said Jonathan, as the lady bowed again. "And that you will cling to him, as long as you both shall live." "That's the talk," and the lady said "yes" again.

"Then, in the presence of these witnes

"Then, in the presence of these witnesses, I pronounce you man and wife."

"Hoorah!" shouted Jonathan, leaping nearly to the ceiling with joy.

"And what God hath joined together, let no man put asunder!"

"Hoorah! continued Jonathan, "wot's the price! How much?—spit it outdon't be afeared—you did it jest like abook old feller!—ere's a V, never mind the change—send for a hack landlordgive instrumental lessons, Mn. Ruppius and the change—send for a hack landlordgive us yer bill; I've got her! Hail Columbia, happy land!" roared the poor fellow entirely unable to control his joy; and ten minutes afterwards he was on his way to the Providence depot, with his wife, the happiest man out of jail.

We heard the details of the above seene from an eye-witness of the ceremony, and we could not avoid putting it down as "one of the weddings."

A HUNTER'S STORY OF RIDING A MOOSE,—A book has recently been published, entitled "Forest Life and Forest Trees, entitled "F

-A book has recently been published, entitled "Forest Life and Forest Trees, or Life among the Loggers," by J. S. Springer. In this book we have the following tough story of riding a moose; which, however, the author does not give curved, and head to the ground, in a manner not dissimilar to the attitude assumed by horned cattle, when about to encounter each other. Just as he was about to make a pass at me, I sprang suddenly between his wide-spreading antlers, bestride his neck. Dexterously turning round, I seized him by the horns, and locking my feet under his neck, I clung to him like a sloth. With a mixture of rage and terror, he dashed wildly about, endeavoring to dislodge me, but as my life depended upon maintaining my position, I clung to him with a corresponding desperation. After making a few ineffectual attempts to dislodge me, he threw out his nose, and laying his antlers back upon his shoulders, which formed a screen for my defence, he sprang forward into a furious run, still bearing me upon his neck. Now penetrating deep thickets, then leaping high windfalls (old fallen trees) and struggling through miry swamps, he finally fell from exhaustion, after carrying me about three miles. Improving the opportunity, I drew my hunting knife from its sheath, and instantly buried it in his neck, cutting ton a couple from Rhode Island, who the jugular vein, which put a speedy ter came to get joined quitely in the bonds of mination to the contest and the flight."

A writer in Blackwood's Magazine for December, in a notice of this book, comments thus on the foregoing story: "After which, we presume that he spit-ate it, and used its antlers for toothpicks. 'Say, lan'lord,' interposed the stranger, The adventure is worthy of Mazeppa, and pointing to his modest dulcinea in the the Wild Huntsman. By the antlers forthe saddle, by the fall of a portcullis, was sewn together with laurel twigs, which sprouted up into a pleasant bower, beneath whose appropriate shade the redoubtable host, with one or two waggish friends, warrior thenceforward rode to victory.— An awful liar, indeed, must have been the narrator of this singular adventure. Doubtless such yarns are acceptable, by the camp-fire, after a hard day's work, and I. M. M. are not out of place in the Logger's book, of which, however, they occupy but a small portion—by far the greater portion of its chapters being filled with solid and curious information."

that mode of treating all kinds of diseases, has been as tonishing—curing the most desperate cases after repeated failures of the most eminent practitioners in the country. As a proof of the Doctor's merits untried, he will undertake the cure of all patients without charge, excepting the cost of the medicine, requiring nofee up?; after the restoration of their health, and the full stisfaction to the patient's mind of the benefit conferred.—This is the principle upon which Dr. Vanderslice is governed in all cases with his practice.

Persons afflicted with Bullions, &c., &c., &c., can have them entirely removed and permanently cured without pain. Thousands of persons have been cured by Dr. V., and can be artestimony to his wonderful success.

Bemales suffering with irregularities, nervousness, debility, &c., can be permanently cured by the treatment of Dr. Vanderslice. Ladies, let no scruples nor false delicacy hinder you from applying in proper person, when you can be so readily restored to health.

Diseases of a peculiar character are guaranteed to be removed in a few days, radically, without offensive or deleterious medicine. Dr. V. being eminently successful in this branch of practice, patients would save much time and money, to say nothing of anxiety of mind, by giving him an early call. He warrants to all, no mat ter how severe and long standing it may have been, a thorough cure, or no pay. Invalided your true interest is to apply to Dr. V. at once, who has the proper medicines to meet all cases.

Dr Vanderslice begsleave to say further, that he has

SUPERIOR CLOTHS AND CLOTHING.

MARSH'S LATE IMPROVEDSELF ADJUSTING TRUSS—the embodiment of ingenaity. Skill and science are beautifully blended in this useful instrument, admirably adapting itself to the different movements and positions of the body. Its perfect action and certain pressure at all times and under all circumstances, gives to the wearer that confidence in his safety so necessary to his happiness. The instrument is neat and compact, dispensing wholly with straps and buckles, leaving the wearer a free use of his limbs, he becomes unconscious of its presence, and pleased with its relief, continues to wear it a few months, when a cure is permanently effected.

Also, MARSH & CO.'S ABDOMINAL SUPPORTERS, of various patterns; one of which claims especial attention, as it is worn with much comparative comfort to that of others, being so constructed as to give a uniform support to the Back and Abdomen, doing away with the steel spring, so annoying to the wearer. The above atticle will be found of great benefit to persons afflicted with pain in the back and sides, inability to be did the with pain in the back and sides, inability to be upon their feet for any length of time, which areses from a displacement of parts that are readily restored by mely application of a properly constructed instrument.
